Preschool-aged children have the opportunity to participate in the “Little Researchers Workshops,” where, through playing games, having fun, and engaging in various enjoyable activities with cheerful instructors, they can not only have a great time but also learn new skills and knowledge.

Have you ever wondered what’s hidden inside a black or blue marker? In this session, little researchers will explore how colors can change and transform into other colors when they travel with water. In this way, children will learn to observe and compare results, while fostering their curiosity.

The registration form can be found here.
