

Musical performance – ballad opera

“Švejks – Then and Now”

Director: Valdis Pavlovskis

Producer: Jānis Kļaviņš

Performances by Valters Krauze, Rihards Lepers, Mārtiņš Kanteris, Inta Gudovska, Anīta Levša, Olga Stupiņa, a band of musicians with Mārcis Auziņš in the lead, and also the dancers Beāte Svarinska and Kristaps Pelēkais.

The ballad opera “Švejks – Then and Now” will feature songs of Ivars Vīgners and Valts Pūce with the lyrics of Jānis Peters and Pēters Brūveris.

Created 100 years ago by a Czech author, the fictional character Švejks is still an absolute favourite with readers and theatre enthusiasts, representing the common sense and one man’s struggle with stupidity of the official institutions and bureaucracy as such. The arrival of the good soldier Švejks on the theatre stages in Latvia is always accompanied by songs – ironic, merry, sad, and full of military humour. Švejks’s songs live on long after the end of the performance, including the songs “Darling, the Emperor Calls me to the War” or “Farewell Ladies”, and many others we occasionally end up singing, humming, and whistling irrespective of the year these timeless melodies were created.

Given that in the autumn of this year, the concert performance “Švejks – Then and Now” received huge appreciation from the audience, it will continue bringing joy to the audience the next year, when Švejks will visit Ventspils, Valmiera, Jelgava, Ulbroka, Rīga, Aizkraukle, and other cities in Latvia.
